USE BAYONETS AS DAGGERS

Wounded Men Describe the Battles as Almost Inhuman in Their Ferocity, the Soldiers Throwing Away Their Firearms and Fighting Hand to Hand—Meager News Made Public at Belgrade.

London, July 8.—The most important news from the seat of war is the report, confirmed from Sofia, of the appearance of a large Bulgarian force at Vrana, threatening the Servian line of retreat.

Still more significant, as tending to confirm the belief that the Servians are suffering defeat, is the announcement from Belgrade that only meager reports are being received from the Servian army headquarters and that the government has decided to publish reports only on alternate days. In addition a rigorous censorship on the newspapers is being enforced.

The Servian wounded describe the battles as almost inhuman in their ferocity, the men throwing away their firearms and using their bayonets as daggers.

This accords with their information from many sources of the sanguinary character of the fighting and the wholesale slaughter witnessed in the present struggle.

Whatever the policy of the European powers may be little is heard of attempts to stop the war. The ambassadorial conference met in London again, but apparently did little except discuss the boundaries of Albania.

Meanwhile Roumania and Turkey give signs that they will not long be idle spectators and the Balkan states continue the struggle which will paralyze them for years to come.

A dispatch from Saloniki reports that the Greeks have occupied Demirhisir and Strumitza and, according to the most likely information, the Bulgarian General Ivanoff has been slowly retiring before the superior Greek forces northward since his army was weakened by the departure of his right wing to attack Krivolak.

Another dispatch asserts that General Ivanoff by an unexpected attack scattered the Greek army of 80,000 commanded by King Constantine and occupied Nigrita and other points on the Greek line. It is possible that both reports are correct and the one crediting victory to General Ivanoff has reference to a later date, after the Bulgarian commander was reinforced.

OPPOSE CURRENCY MEASURE

Many House Democrats Do Not Approve Plan.

Washington, July 8.—When the Democratic members of the house banking and currency committee met to perfect plans for formal meetings for consideration of the administration currency bill it was apparent that some of them were not prepared to support the measure as introduced.

Chairman Glass stated at the outset that the measure was not his, but a compromise, and that every member of the committee should feel free to offer such amendments as he thought would strengthen and improve the bill.

There was a free interchange of views during the meeting. Mr. Glass said he had several amendments in view which he proposed to lay before the committee.

A radical departure in the conduct of city affairs is expected with the institution of a modified form of commission government, made possible by recent charter amendments.

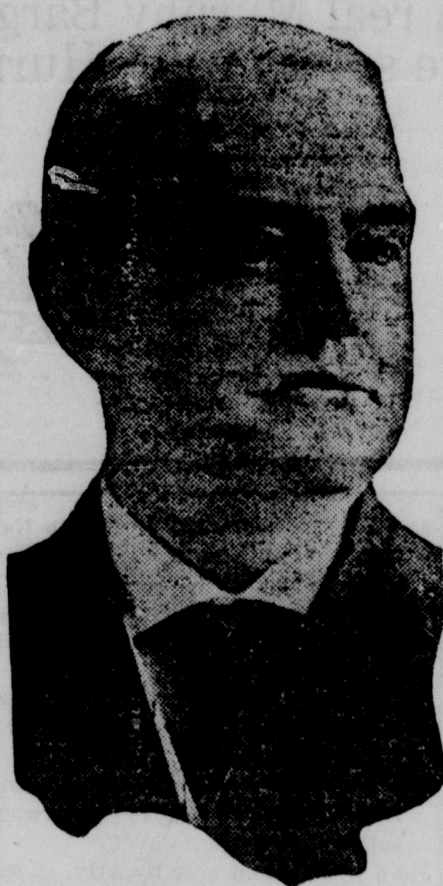

In accordance with a charter amendment the council will be required to hold sessions every day except Sunday.

The resolution is the outcome of a report that an inspector had been sent by the department of justice to investigate the conduct of Judge Speer in the federal court of Georgia.

CUBAN POLICE CHIEF
MORTALLY WOUNDED

Pistol Fight Occurs on Havana Thoroughfare.

Havana, July 8.—General Armando Riva, chief of the national police, was shot and mortally wounded during a pistol fight in the most crowded portion of the Prado.

General Ernesto Asbert, governor of Havana province, Senator Vidal Morales and Representative Arias were involved in the fighting, which was the outcome of a raid made by General Riva Saturday night on the Asbert club, when a large number of members were caught gambling. They were arrested and sentenced to a heavy fine.

The governor complained to President Menocal, who, it is understood, sustained the action of the police.

General Riva, while driving with his young sons, stopped his carriage in front of the club and caused the arrest of the doorkeeper for illegally carrying a revolver.

Asbert, Morales and Arias arrived in an automobile about the same time and a heated dispute arose. Insults were exchanged and all alighted, advancing in a threatening manner.

According to the stories of witnesses Asbert and Morales opened fire. General Riva falling with a bullet in his head and another in the abdomen.

SMITH'S PLAN TO PUSH TARIFF BILLGeorgia Senator Proposes to Banish the Morning Hour.

WOULD TIRE REPUBLICANS.

Hoke Does Not Realize the Difficulty of Keeping a Quorum During the Summer Months—Congress Certain to Pass a Drastic Anti-Lobby Bill to Protect Itself.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 8.—[Special.]—Senator Hoke Smith has a plan for pushing the tariff bill through the senate with much greater speed than has been believed possible. He says that after giving the Republicans reasonable time to consider the measure after it is reported a few days, at least, then the senate should banish the so-called "morning hour," which is really two hours, take up the tariff bill each day at 12:30 and continue consideration of it until 6 o'clock at night.

That for the first week. Then begin the sessions an hour earlier for a week; then begin about the third week about 10 o'clock in the morning and run until 10 at night. In that way the Georgia senator believes the Republicans will tire of making long speeches. He would also have the Democrats satisfy themselves with short speeches, just enough to explain the provisions of the bill, with perhaps a speech by each senator for home consumption.

How About the Quorum?

Senator Smith has not been a member of the senate two years, and he never has been through one of those protracted contests such as a tariff bill is likely to evoke. He does not realize, perhaps, that his party will be under the necessity of keeping a quorum in the senate all the time. The majority will want to defeat the bill, and it is surmised that others would be willing to see it defeated indirectly; therefore the idea of working twelve hours a day on the tariff bill may have to be modified.

A quorum can be demanded almost any time. Senators will not remain and listen to long tariff speeches. If an attempt is made early in the consideration of the tariff bill to work under forced pressure the Republicans are sure to begin a filibuster in earnest.

Drastic Lobby Bill Sure.

While the Mulhall revelations concerning the lobby did not come as a result of the investigation which President Wilson caused to be instituted, they are all a part of the general anti-lobby crusade, and the president will get credit for what has been turned up. One thing is assured, however, congress will pass a drastic anti-lobby bill. Congress is sure to take measures to protect itself and the public from that gang of harpies who infect the capital and deal in alleged "influence."

They make big concerns interested in legislation believe they can "put things over" and reap quite a harvest from the gullible outsiders.

Their Worst Offense.

What has aroused congressmen to a high pitch of indignation is because these lobbyists inform their employers that this or that man is "fixed" or is "all right" and by implication say that the lobbyist has "fixed" the man named. They pick out men who may have treated them with consideration, who may, in fact, favor the legislation the lobbyist is promoting not because of the lobbyist, but on some other account.

That is true in regard to tariff legislation. Nearly every high protectionist in congress can be classed as "all right" in support of a high duty on certain articles. They would be for the duty if they had never seen the lobbyist. And so they are put in pillory before the public when the lobbyist turns "informant."

Rewards of Valor.

While much has been printed recently about the battle of Gettysburg and every account showed that it was a decisive battle, the turning point of the war, etc., it does not seem to have occurred to any one that not a single commander on the Union side who participated in that great battle was ever rewarded to the extent of giving him the rank of lieutenant general.

As a result of the Spanish war six men were made lieutenant generals. Who can name them? Gettysburg gave fame to Meade, Hancock, Sickles, Sykes, Sedgwick, Howard, Slocum, Warren, Buford, Doubleday, Pleasanton, Reynolds, Geary, Roger, Alexander and others, many of whom won more distinction both before and after the crucial battle of the civil war. Yet none received the coveted three stars.

Mende's sole reward for winning the most decisive battle of the war was a brigadier general's commission. The lieutenant general's reward after the Spanish war were Miles, Young, Chaffee, Bates, Corbin and MacArthur.

Wives Brave Heat.

While a great many women have left Washington, a large number of wives of senators and representatives have determined to brave the heat of the capital and remain in Washington until the end of the session. They prefer to live as families rather than to wander alone about their homes or seek pleasure resorts.

CAPTAIN POTTS.

Intends to Make Fight
Against His Retirement.

ATTACKS "PLUCKING BOARD"

Captain Potts, Retired, Will Fight Case.

Newport, R. I., July 8.—Captain Tomlin M. Potts, U. S. N., retired, until last week commander of the battleship Louisiana, accompanied by an attorney, left for Washington, where, according to friends, he will seek to have reversed the action of the "plucking board," which retired him before he had an opportunity to reach the grade of rear admiral.

Silence regarding the plans was maintained by the captain.

GOLD MINERS REFUSE
TO RETURN TO WORKDispute Arises Over the Terms
of Settlement.

Johannesburg, July 8.—Many of the gold miners refuse to return to work and at a meeting militant leaders delivered fiery speeches to the 3,000 persons assembled.

A resolution declaring that the strike was still on and condemning the strike leaders was carried.

One of the chief speakers announced the organization of a new union of South African workers, which, he said, would be a revolutionary party.

Efforts are now being made at Braamfontein to bring out the railway workers.

A dispute is on over the actual terms of settlement which General Botha, the ex-premier, and General Smuts, minister of mines, made with the unions.

The unionists assert they insisted that the government provide for miners whose places were taken by strikebreakers, until new places could be found for them, and also that the leaders claimed amnesty for the rioters. General Botha replied that that was a matter for the department of justice, but giving the impression that he favored amnesty.

PLAN MONSTER AUTO PARADE

Women Suffragists of Many States to Gather at Washington.

Washington, July 8.—General plans for the descent of women suffragists on the capital were agreed upon when officers of the National Woman Suffrage association determined that the "attack" would be marked by a monster automobile parade. Suffragists from many states have advised the committee of their intention to take part.

The women will gather at Hyattsville, Md., on the morning of July 30. A reception will be held there by the local committee and after forming in procession the long line of motor cars will charge upon Capitol hill. The demonstration is for the purpose of demanding that congress pass a resolution leaving to the country the question of a constitutional amendment granting the ballot to women.

SPECIAL COMMISSION QUILTS

Unable to Secure Data Regarding Friedmann Cure.

Berlin, July 8.—The following signed statement was given out here: "The committee for the investigation of the treatment of the tuberculosis according to Dr. Friedmann's method was obliged to dissolve itself owing to the difficulties in obtaining sufficient matter whereon to base an opinion."

Thus the special commission of three of the most noted German specialists in tuberculosis, who offered their services to determine the exact value of the Dr. Friedmann alleged "turtle cure" for consumption in a strictly impartial manner, has been voluntarily dissolved by its members.

OPPOSED TO OLD PARTY MEN

Roosevelt Outlines Attitude in Gotham's Mayoralty Contest.

New York, July 8.—The attitude of Colonel Roosevelt in the coming mayoralty campaign was outlined by him at an interview at Oyster Bay, as yet Colonel Roosevelt has declined to commit himself to any candidate. He made it plain that he will support no man who is entangled with either Tammany Hall, the Republican party or any other party under what he calls "boss control."

Mr. Roosevelt has been approached by men aiding the booms of Whitman, Mitchell and McAneny, but he has turned them off with the assertion that he is not going to throw his support to any candidate aligned with the old parties.

DUE TO UNSOUND METHODS

First-Second National Bank of Pittsburgh is Closed on Account of Irregularities—Reports to the Comptroller Indicate That Capital Stock is Impaired and Surplus and Profits Wiped Out.

Washington, July 8.—Secretary McAdoo, in a statement, declared that the general banking condition in Pittsburgh as well as in the entire country was strong and sound and that he expected no further trouble as a result of the failure of the Pittsburgh First-Second National bank.

"The failure of the Pittsburgh bank simply is a sporadic case of unsound banking and has no other significance," the secretary said.

He added that the receivership for the institution removed a long standing "sore spot" in the Pittsburgh situation, leaving the general condition in that city sound.

The secretary will make a sweeping investigation of the failure of the big bank.

It developed that one fact which drew the suspicion of the treasury department to the bank's condition was a discrepancy of nearly $2,000,000 between the sworn report to the comptroller of the currency as to the bank's condition on June 4 and what should have been a true copy of this report published by the bank in the newspapers of Pittsburgh.

The law requires every bank to publish its reports to the comptroller of the currency, in response to his call in local newspapers, so the public may know the facts.

The report to the comptroller showed assets and liabilities aggregating $39,997,347.10 each, while as given to the Pittsburgh newspapers for publication the report placed these totals at $38,103,886.39, the $1,893,460.71 difference representing the discounts or borrowed money. Officials declared that this was illegal.

Reports to the department indicate that one-third of the $3,400,000 capital stock of the bank has been impaired and that the surplus and profits have been wiped out.

While details are lacking estimates based upon the last report to the comptroller of the currency indicate that at this rate the losses might reach $3,000,000.

SLENDER MAJORITY OF ONE

Forty-nine Senators Will Support Tariff Bill.

Washington, July 8.—Forty-seven Democratic senators stood up in the party caucus one by one and declared their intention to vote for the Underwood-Simmons tariff revision bill as finally approved by the caucus a few minutes previously.

Two senators, Ransdell and Thornton of Louisiana, stated they would not make such promise because of the proposal to place sugar on the free list in 1916.

Sensors Hitchcock of Nebraska and Culberson of Texas were absent, but both are known to be in favor of the bill.

This gives the Democrats forty-nine votes for the bill, or a slender majority of one, with the vote of the vice president to fall back on in an emergency.

One of Three Old War Chiefs of Brule Sioux Tribe.

Wheeler, S. D., July 8.—At his home on the Rosebud reservation occurred the death of Good Voice, aged ninety-one, one of the three remaining war chiefs of the Brule Sioux tribe. He had been one of the principal chiefs of his tribe more than fifty years. He won distinction as a fighter in forays against the Pawnee Indians, hereditary enemies of the Sioux, who then resided in Nebraska. In his latter years he was a great friend of the white people and counseled his tribesmen to remain at peace. The two remaining chiefs of the Brule Sioux are Two Strikes and Turning Bear, both of whom are over ninety years of age.

Edward Lauterbach Defends His Con-

Has Been Innocent Victim of Others.

Washington, July 8.—"It was a roaring farce for Lamar and Ledyard and every one except for me, to whom it was a deep tragedy. I was known as a corporation lawyer and had gained the confidence of great financial men.
"I wish now I had attended to business of a smaller degree. I wish I had become a criminal lawyer—perhaps I am a criminal lawyer, if we heed the suggestions made around this table."

This was Edward Lauterbach's eloquent defense of his conduct in representing he came to Wall street men
on authority of members of congress,
given to the lobby investigating committee. He said he had acted on advice of David Lamar.

Lauterbach told the committee Lamar had excused his course, "fairly satisfactorily" to him. He said Lamar had told him he acted as he did so that Ledyard and the other conspirators against Lauterbach and himself might be publicly exposed.

During the examination of the witness Senator Reed and Senator Nelson got into a sharp wrangle about the treatment of the witness. Senator Nelson declared the witness was being "bullyragged" and that he insisted upon the examination being conducted in "decent order."

Recounts Nelson's Remark.

"I resent that remark," said Senator Reed.

"I don't care if you do," Senator
Nelson retorted.

"Once I took occasion to be overly nice to you," Senator Reed said, "and I have been sorry for it ever since."
Lauterbach, long prominent in legal circles in New York, sat under a searching fire of questions from senators on the lobby committee. He admitted most of the facts alleged by Lewis Cass Ledyard, but he declared that throughout the negotiations between Lamar and himself and between himself and members or representatives of the Morgan firm he had been the innocent victim of those who had concealed facts or made misrepresentations to him.

The witness admitted his long association with Lamar and said it had been a profitable connection for him.
He told of talking over with Lamar
the steel trust investigation and of seeing the proposed resolution and admitted urging Lamar to withdraw it until he could see J. P. Morgan and others and urge them to authorize him to prevent its introduction.

General Riva, while driving with his
young sons, stopped his carriage in front of the club and caused the arrest of the doorkeeper for illegally
carrying a revolver.

Asbert, Morales and Arias arrived in
an automobile about the same time
and a heated dispute arose. Insults
were exchanged and all alighted, advancing in a threatening manner.

According to the stories of witnesses
Asbert and Morales opened fire. General Riva falling with a bullet in his head and another in the abdomen.

VEUVIUS IS ACTIVE AGAIN

Seven-Year Period of Tranquillity Has Ended.

Naples, July 8.—The activity of Mount Vesuvius, which became prominent last spring, is growing more accentuated.

Studies by Professor Mercalli, director of the observatory, show that the volcano from 1700 A. D. to date, was never tranquil for a time surpassing seven consecutive years.

At the end of the seven-year period,
which corresponds with the present year, that length of time having elapsed since the eruption of 1906, the volcano enters an eruptive stage. Professor Mercalli says, however, this does not mean a violent eruption necessarily is imminent.

The crater is emitting a quantity of vapor composed of chloric acid.

FAMILY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mother and Daughter Dead and Two Others Hurt.

Walthill, Neb., July 8.—Two women were killed and a woman and man seriously hurt when an automobile containing William Denshass, his wife and two daughters was struck by a Burlington passenger train at a crossing near here.

Mrs. Denshass and her daughter Ethel, twenty-five years old, were killed. Mr. Denshass and daughter Hazel were seriously injured, the latter's skull being fractured.

The family resides at Lake Park,
Ia.

President Enjoys Himself.

Cornish, N. H., July 8.—The cheerful glow of wood fires in the summer
White House brought cozy warmth from the autumnlike breezes that swept the surrounding hills and President Wilson was so delighted with the sudden drop in temperature that he was considering the possibility of extending his stay until Thursday.

SENATOR WORKS.

Wants to Find Out About Spies on Federal Courts.

REPORT ON FEDERAL "SPIES"

Senate Calls on Attorney General to Tell of Inspection.

Washington, July 8.—Upon motion of Senator Works of California the senate agreed to a resolution calling on the attorney general for a report as to what "spies" or inspectors, if any, he had sent out to investigate the proceedings or conduct of federal courts or judges in the last five years.

The resolution is the outcome of a report that an inspector had been sent by the department of justice to investigate the conduct of Judge Speer in the federal court of Georgia.

CUBAN POLICE CHIEF
MORTALLY WOUNDEDPistol Fight Occurs on Havana Thoroughfare.

Havana, July 8.—General Armando Riva, chief of the national police, was shot and mortally wounded during a pistol fight in the most crowded portion of the Prado.

General Ernesto Asbert, governor of Havana province, Senator Vidal Morales and Representative Arias were involved in the fighting, which was the outcome of a raid made by General Riva Saturday night on the Asbert club, when a large number of members were caught gambling. They were arrested and sentenced to a heavy fine.

The governor complained to President Menocal, who, it is understood, sustained the action of the police.

General Riva, while driving with his
young sons, stopped his carriage in
front of the club and caused the arrest of the doorkeeper for illegally
carrying a revolver.

Asbert, Morales and Arias arrived in
an automobile about the same time
and a heated dispute arose. Insults
were exchanged and all alighted, advancing in a threatening manner.

According to the stories of witnesses
Asbert and Morales opened fire. General Riva falling with a bullet in his head and another in the abdomen.

INCREASES EXPRESS TAXES

South Dakota Commission Raises
Companies' Assessments.

Pierre, S. D., July 8.—The state tax commission increased the total of express company assessments from $661, 219 last year to $2,779,319 this year.
The American and Wells-Fargo companies are listed at more than $1, 000,000.

The assessment of Pullman cars in the state was increased from $60,000
last year to $282,000 this year.

July 22 has been set for review of this assessment.

at a loss estimated at $350,

SENT TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

Judge Sentences Leslie Humphries for Murder and Robbery.

Columbus, O., July 8.—Judge E. B.
Kinkead sentenced Leslie Humphries
to the electric chair at the Ohio penitentiary on Oct. 23. Judge Kinkead found Humphries guilty of murder in the first degree in killing Samuel E.
Kelly of Berkeley, W. Va., in the perpetration of a robbery. Humphries was tried without a jury, by agreement.

SMITH'S PLAN TO
PUSH TARIFF BILLGeorgia Senator Proposes to Banish the Morning Hour.

WOULD TIRE REPUBLICANS.

Hoke Does Not Realize the Difficulty of Keeping a Quorum During the Summer Months—Congress Certain to Pass a Drastic Anti-lobby Bill to Protect Itself.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 8.—[Special.]— Senator Hoke Smith has a plan for pushing the tariff bill through the senate with much greater speed than has been believed possible. He says that after giving the Republicans reasonable time to consider the measure after it is reported a few days, at least, then the senate should banish the so called "morning hour," which is really two hours, take up the tariff bill each day at 12:30 and continue consideration of it until 6 o'clock at night.

That for the first week. Then begin the sessions an hour earlier for a week;
then begin about the third week about 10 o'clock in the morning and run until 10 at night. In that way the Georgia senator believes the Republicans will tire of making long speeches. He would also have the Democrats satisfy themselves with short speeches, just enough to explain the provisions of the bill, with perhaps a speech by each senator for home consumption.

How About the Quorum?

Senator Smith has not been a member of the senate two years, and he never has been through one of those protracted contests such as a tariff bill is likely to evoke. He does not realize, perhaps, that his party will be under the necessity of keeping a quorum in the senate all the time. The majority is narrow. At least two Democrats will want to defeat the bill, and it is surmised that others would be willing to see it defeated indirectly; therefore the idea of working twelve hours a day on the tariff bill may have to be modified.

A quorum can be demanded almost any time. Senators will not remain and listen to long tariff speeches. If an attempt is made early in the consideration of the tariff bill to work under forced pressure the Republicans are sure to begin a filibuster in earnest.

Drastic Lobby Bill Sure.

While the Mullah revelations concerning the lobby did not come as a result of the investigation which President Wilson caused to be instituted, they are all a part of the general anti-lobby crusade, and the president will get credit for what has been turned up. One thing is assured, however, congress will pass a drastic anti-lobby bill. Congress is sure to take measures to protect itself and the public from that gang of harpies who infest the capital and deal in alleged "influence." They make big concerns interested in legislation believe they can "put things over" and reap quite a harvest from the gullible outsiders.

Their Worst Offense.

What has aroused congressmen to a high pitch of indignation is because these lobbyists inform their employers that this or that man is "fixed" or is "all right" and by implication say that the lobbyist has "fixed" the man named. "They pick out men who may have treated them with consideration,
who may, in fact, favor the legislation the lobbyist is promoting not because of the lobbyist, but on some other account."

That is true in regard to tariff legislation. Nearly every high protectionist in congress can be classed as "all right" in support of a high duty on certain articles. They would be for the duty if they had never seen the lobbyist. And so they are put in pillory before the public when the lobby-
list turns "informer."

Rewards of Valor.

While much has been printed recently about the battle of Gettysburg and every account showed that it was a decisive battle, the turning point of the war, etc., it does not seem to have occurred to any one that not a single commander on the Union side who participated in that great battle was ever rewarded to the extent of giving him
the rank of lieutenant general.

As a result of the Spanish war six men were made lieutenant generals.
Who can name them? Gettysburg gave fame to Meade, Hancock, Sickles, Sykes, Sedgwick, Howard, Vismar,
Warren, Buford, Doubleday, Pleasanton,
Reynolds, Geary, Roger, Alexander and others, many of whom won more distinction both before and after the crucial battle of the civil war.
Yet none received the coveted three stars. Meade's sole reward for winning the most decisive battle of the war was a brigadier general's commission. The lieutenant generals rewarded after the Spanish war were Miles, Young, Chaffee, Bates, Corbin
and MacArthur.

Wives Brave Heat.

While a great many women have left Washington, a large number of wives of senators and representatives have determined to brave the heat of the capital and remain in Washington until the end of the session. They prefer to live as families rather than to wander alone about their homes or seek pleasure resorts.

Dreams.

Sometimes a man calls a girl a dream and then wonders why dreams are not always true.—Florida Times-Union.

CAPTAIN POTTS.

Intends to Make Fight
Against His Retirement.

ATTACKS "PLUCKING BOARD"

Captain Potts, Retired, Will Fight
Case.

Newport, R. I., July 8.—Captain Temlin M. Potts, U. S. N., retired, until last week commander of the battleship Louisiana, accompanied by an attorney, left for Washington, where, according to friends, he will seek to have reversed the action of the "plucking board," which retired him before he had an opportunity to reach the grade of rear admiral.

Silence regarding the plans was maintained by the captain.

GOLD MINERS REFUSE
TO RETURN TO WORKDispute Arises Over the Terms
of Settlement.

Johannesburg, July 8.—Many of the gold miners refuse to return to work and at a meeting militant leaders delivered fiery speeches to the 3,000 persons assembled.

A resolution declaring that the strike was still on and condemning the strike leaders was carried.

One of the chief speakers announced the organization of a new union of South African workers, which, he said, would be a revolutionary party.

Efforts are now being made at Braamfontein to bring out the railway workers.

A dispute is on over the actual terms of settlement which General
Botha, the ex-premier, and General Smuts, minister of mines, made with the unions.

The unionists assert they insisted that the government provide for miners whose places were taken by strikebreakers, until new places could be found for them, and also that the leaders claimed amnesty for the rioters. General Botha replied that that was a matter for the department of justice, but giving the impression that he favored amnesty.

PLAN MONSTER AUTO PARADE

Women Suffragists of Many States to Gather at Washington.

Washington, July 8.—General plans for the descent of women suffragists on the capital were agreed upon when officers of the National Woman Surfrage association determined that the "attack" would be marked by a monster automobile parade. Suffragists from many states have advised the committee of their intention to take part.

The women will gather at Hyattsville, Md., on the morning of July 30.
A reception will be held there by the local committee and after forming in procession the long line of motor cars will charge upon Capitol hill. The demonstration is for the purpose of demanding that congress pass a resolution leaving to the country the question of a constitutional amendment granting the ballot to women.

SPECIAL COMMISSION QUILTS

Unable to Secure Data Regarding Friedmann Cure.

Berlin, July 8.—The following signed statement was given out here:
"The committee for the investigation of the treatment of the tuberculosis according to Dr. Friedmann's method was obliged to dissolve itself owing to the difficulties in obtaining sufficient matter whereon to base an opinion."

Thus the special commission of three of the most noted German specialists in tuberculosis, who offered their services to determine the exact value of the Dr. Friedmann alleged "turtur cure" for consumption in a strictly impartial manner, has been voluntarily dissolved by its members.

pectedly kicked by the court jester.

OPPOSED TO OLD PARTY MEN

Roosevelt Outlines Attitude in Gotham's Mayoralty Contest.

New York, July 8.—The attitude of Colonel Roosevelt in the coming mayoralty campaign was outlined by him at an interview at Oyster Bay,
as yet Colonel Roosevelt has declined to commit himself to any candidate.
He made it plain that he will support
no man who is entangled with either Tammany Hall, the Republican party or any other party under what he calls "boss control."

Mr. Roosevelt has been approached by men aiding the booms of Whitman, Mitchell and McAneny, but he has turned them off with the assertion that he is not going to throw his support to any candidate aligned with the old parties.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At The Grand

"A True Believer" is the title of the feature film at the Grand. The plot follows: One old minister is deposed and a younger man is put in his place. The new minister confesses as a spy for his brother, who was captain in the Northern secret service. There is a very interesting little girl character and it is through her that the old minister is saved from death when he is suspected of betraying his friends. The younger minister confesses as a result of seeing the little girl pray for her aged friend.

"The Hansom Driver" and "Feeding Time" are roaring Keystone comedies. Gene McCarthy sings the illustrated song, "Garland of Old Fashioned Roses."

At the Empress

"A Battle of Freedom," a powerful story of the Boer war, is the feature film at the Empress. The story of the plot is that financial reverses have placed the Willis family of Cape Town, South Africa, in dire straits, and Henry Willis joins a party setting forth to cross the arid veldt, taking his four year old daughter Ellen, leaving Charles, a son of twenty, to look after the estate and his grandfather.

During the perilous journey across the desert a drought visits the country and parched and exhausted, one by one the travelers succumb until the child is the sole survivor.

A party of Boers find the child and after a taxing journey reach the home of Piet and Katrina Joubert, who care for her and as her identity cannot be established, adopt her as their own. News of the desert tragedy reaches Cape Town but nothing of Ellen's rescue.

Twenty years later Ellen is the pride of her foster parents when the British troops advance to the borders of the Free State with Chas. Willis, Ellen's brother, commissioned as Captain. During the war that follows Piet Joubert and his neighbors, while in a sharp skirmish, are taken prisoners, Ellen among them. When giving up her cartridge belt she drops her locket, worn since childhood, at the feet of the captain, who returns it to her and discovers the picture of his mother, while Katrina and her husband tell the young officer the story of Ellen's rescue from the desert.

WESLEY-KROG

The bride has a large acquaintance, her parents conducting a store in Nymore. Their many Brainerd friends extend them best wishes.

W. T. LARABEE GETS LICENSE

Street Paving Bids Deferred—School Board Asks for Sewer in South-east Brainerd

All members of the city council were present Monday evening except Alderman Haase.

The school board, through its spokesman, R. R. Wise, called attention to the condition of affairs in Southeast Brainerd, where the board wishes to install heating and plumbing in the school building there. A sewer is urgently needed. It is impossible to dig a cess pool as water is struck when a hole is sunk a few feet. The dry closets, in use at the present time, are beyond repair. The plans call for plumbing and the contractors will be unable to go ahead with this part of the job unless a sewer is put in. It is a deplorable situation and something must be done to remedy it.

City Engineer Peacock stated that the question of a sewer hinged on the city's getting permission to pierce the dump of the N. P. railway company near the shops. It would cost the city $15 a foot to do the work. In two years the general sewer would need repairing.

On motion of Alderman Mahlum it was decided that the sewer committee of the council and the city engineer, with the school board, attend the next meeting of the county commissioners, July 14, and take up with them the question of a roadway and sewer through the dump.

George Reid, president of the Minnesota Central Railway company, broached the proposition for a street railway franchise, which is treated at length in another column.

STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE TERMS

George Reid, President of Minnesota Central Ry. Co., Asks for Franchise for 30 Years

RIGHT OF ENTRY IN THE CITY

To Pay City Percentage of Net Earnings of City Lines Over and Above Interest Charges, Etc.

George Reid, of Duluth, president of the Minnesota Central railway company, appeared before the city council Monday evening and in brief outlined the terms of the franchise which the company desired.

Mr. Reid said: "The Minnesota Central Railway company is seeking a franchise to build a street railway in Brainerd upon terms that will be fair to both the city and the company. We will ask your honorable body for a franchise for a period of thirty years, at the expiration of which time, or any succeeding year thereafter, the city may take over the lines in Brainerd at their appraised value, giving the company the right in perpetuity to use the city's tracks to reach the center of the city with its interurban lines, the company to divide the cost of upkeep of the tracks over which it would run with the city."

"We would, of course, prefer an unlimited franchise, but we realize that such a franchise is opposed to public sentiment, not only in Brainerd, but in most other cities of the United States. Should we build the line in Brainerd it would be, in a few years, only part of an electric railway system covering the Cuyuna iron range and reaching out, perhaps, in other directions. Brainerd would be the head and heart of such a system. If the city could chop off the Brainerd lines at will, after 30 years say, without our having access to this city, it would disrupt the system and greatly damage its earning power. Without the assurance of perpetual entrance into Brainerd we would have serious difficulty in financing the undertaking."

"The plan I have outlined, however, would give the city the right to operate its own lines as soon, maybe, as it will be in a financial condition to do so. That will not be for a long time to come. This city is going to grow and grow fast. You will require large sums for street, sewer and water improvements, and for sewer and water extensions to keep pace with the second and faster growth of Brainerd, which is just beginning."

"Should we be able to carry out our plans for electric railway lines radiating from Brainerd we will be a powerful factor in that growth by aiding in the development of the rich agricultural resources of Crow Wing county and in making the city of Brainerd the distributing center, not only for the Cuyuna iron range but of the grand farming country surrounding Brainerd on all sides. Our plans embrace the opening up of five and ten acre truck and berry farms to furnish traffic to the proposed electric line. These small farms would supply Brainerd and other cities and towns on the Cuyuna iron range, help reduce the cost of living, and eventually ship a large surplus to Duluth and Superior, and to the Mesaba range cities—all high priced markets—and to points even farther away. We would foster this growth by reasonable carrying charges."

"We will ask for a franchise simply to build the line in Brainerd, leaving the matter of routes for future consideration. Under such a franchise as we seek, every block of the route laid out later would have to be submitted to your body for approval. Our purpose in asking for a franchise upon these terms is to divide whatever benefits may be derived from outlying additions to Brainerd between Brainerd and our company, instead of giving large profits to a few real estate speculators. In the event that you grant the franchise it is our intention to acquire tracts of good land, cut them up into building lots and acre tracts, having always in view Brainerd, the City Beautiful, and to sell these lots and acre tracts at reasonable prices to encourage traffic for the street railway. Such a course will help us put the line upon a paying basis and give Brainerd reasonable, not to say low, rates of fare from the start, including a five cent fare within the city limits and perhaps for a mile beyond these limits, and a reduced fare for the hundreds of men employed in the car shops and the children in the public schools."

"Ours is not a local public service corporation and would therefore not be subject to the state laws governing public ownership of public utilities. Without consulting counsel, I should say that you have the right to grant the franchise upon the general terms outlined, which, of course, are subject to amendment as we may agree. However, you have a very able city attorney to advise you in such matters."

"This company doubtless must pay the state tax on the gross earnings of railroads, since our charter empowers us to build lines in every county in Minnesota and to extend them into adjoining states. We would be willing, however, to pay the city of Brainerd 25 per cent on net earnings within the city itself over and above six per cent dividends to stockholders, after interest charges, depreciation, etc., have been cared for until eight per cent dividends are reached, when we would pay the city 33 1-3 per cent of net earnings between eight and ten per cent, and one-half of net earnings in excess of ten per cent.

"Should the council grant the franchise, the company will bind itself to begin construction work within one year and to operate the Brainerd street railway within two years."

"I shall be glad to answer any questions you gentlemen may ask. Please remember, however, that the Minnesota Central Railway company is in a formative state, being only one week old. We have had a legal status only since July 1."

The council listened with attention to Mr. Reid's address and the matter was referred to M. E. Ryan, city attorney to examine the legal status of the proposition made for a franchise, Mr. Reid to meet Mr. Ryan Tuesday afternoon.

Public interest is growing in the street railway proposition and the range towns desired to be connected with the system all favor the proposition of a range electric line. Mr. Reid will meet with the council next Monday evening, July 14.

W. T. LARABEE GETS LICENSE

Street Paving Bids Deferred—School Board Asks for Sewer in South-east Brainerd

All members of the city council were present Monday evening except Alderman Haase.

The school board, through its spokesman, R. R. Wise, called attention to the condition of affairs in Southeast Brainerd, where the board wishes to install heating and plumbing in the school building there. A sewer is urgently needed. It is impossible to dig a cess pool as water is struck when a hole is sunk a few feet. The dry closets, in use at the present time, are beyond repair. The plans call for plumbing and the contractors will be unable to go ahead with this part of the job unless a sewer is put in. It is a deplorable situation and something must be done to remedy it.

City Engineer Peacock stated that the question of a sewer hinged on the city's getting permission to pierce the dump of the N. P. railway company near the shops. It would cost the city $15 a foot to do the work. In two years the general sewer would need repairing.

On motion of Alderman Mahlum it was decided that the sewer committee of the council and the city engineer, with the school board, attend the next meeting of the county commissioners, July 14, and take up with them the question of a roadway and sewer through the dump.

George Reid, president of the Minnesota Central Railway company, broached the proposition for a street railway franchise, which is treated at length in another column.

This city is going to grow and grow fast. You will require large sums for street, sewer and water improvements, and for sewer and water extensions to keep pace with the second and faster growth of Brainerd, which is just beginning."

"Should we be able to carry out our plans for electric railway lines radiating from Brainerd we will be a powerful factor in that growth by aiding in the development of the rich agricultural resources of Crow Wing county and in making the city of Brainerd the distributing center, not only for the Cuyuna iron range but of the grand farming country surrounding Brainerd on all sides. Our plans embrace the opening up of five and ten acre truck and berry farms to furnish traffic to the proposed electric line. These small farms would supply Brainerd and other cities and towns on the Cuyuna iron range, help reduce the cost of living, and eventually ship a large surplus to Duluth and Superior, and to the Mesaba range cities—all high priced markets—and to points even farther away. We would foster this growth by reasonable carrying charges."

"We will ask for a franchise simply to build the line in Brainerd, leaving the matter of routes for future consideration. Under such a franchise as we seek, every block of the route laid out later would have to be submitted to your body for approval. Our purpose in asking for a franchise upon these terms is to divide whatever benefits may be derived from outlying additions to Brainerd between Brainerd and our company, instead of giving large profits to a few real estate speculators. In the event that you grant the franchise it is our intention to acquire tracts of good land, cut them up into building lots and acre tracts, having always in view Brainerd, the City Beautiful, and to sell these lots and acre tracts at reasonable prices to encourage traffic for the street railway. Such a course will help us put the line upon a paying basis and give Brainerd reasonable, not to say low, rates of fare from the start, including a five cent fare within the city limits and perhaps for a mile beyond these limits, and a reduced fare for the hundreds of men employed in the car shops and the children in the public schools."

"Ours is not a local public service corporation and would therefore not be subject to the state laws governing public ownership of public utilities. Without consulting counsel, I should say that you have the right to grant the franchise upon the general terms outlined, which, of course, are subject to amendment as we may agree. However, you have a very able city attorney to advise you in such matters."

"This company doubtless must pay the state tax on the gross earnings of railroads, since our charter empowers us to build lines in every county in Minnesota and to extend them into adjoining states. We would be willing, however, to pay the city of Brainerd 25 per cent on net earnings within the city itself over and above six per cent dividends to stockholders, after interest charges, depreciation, etc., have been cared

A CHAIN OF FAME.

The Barrier Washington Erected Across the Hudson.

ARNOLD REMOVED ONE LINK.

Still the Monster Cable, In Spite of the Traitor's Act, Served Its Purpose and Blocked the Progress of the British Ships Up the River.

Somewhere in the bed of the Hudson river just off of West Point lies buried the larger part of a great iron chain, one of several ordered by General Washington during the Revolution to be constructed to prevent the enemy from ascending certain rivers to accomplish strategic points of vantage.

The British were making strenuous efforts to get hold of the Hudson in order to keep free communication with Canada by the additional channels of the St. Lawrence and Lake Champlain, and so it was determined to obstruct the Hudson by a great chain crossing from Fort Montgomery to Anthony's Nose.

But this was a failure. The chain parted within a week after it had been stretched, and, although subsequently raised and again placed, it was destroyed by the British.

Finally Washington decided to forge another and obstruct the river between West Point and Constitution Island, for here there was an abrupt change of course, and a heavy tide reduced the speed of any ship encountering it. Besides, the channel was 300 feet narrower at this crossing.

The forging of a chain such as was contemplated was then no small undertaking. Requests were secretly sent to various iron companies, and among the bids the most favorable came from the Sterling Iron works, situated in one of the most beautiful regions of the east, now within the fashionable domain of Tuxedo Park.

It was originally organized by Lord Sterling in 1751, a well known officer in the Revolutionary army, and continued in operation for more than a hundred years, meanwhile passing into the possession of Abel Noble, who married a niece of Peter Townsend and who now in association with the latter increased the capacity of the works which eventually came into the entire possession of Peter Townsend, a patriot and filled with the spirit of the time.

He finally obtained a few Welsh miners from Pennsylvania for the heavy handling in the forging and a number of men from Connecticut with their ox teams to do the hauling, and when the chain was ready it was drawn over the rough mountainous roads and through forests that had to be purposely cut in many places and so on to New Windsor, the nearest river point, and towed to West Point.

It was a strenuous undertaking from the very start. Each link weighed 300 pounds, was two feet in length and two and a quarter inches square, and each 100 feet was secured by a swivel, a twisting link, and at every thousand feet there was a clevis. The whole of this weighed 185 tons. When it was stretched across from West Point to Constitution Island it was buoyed up by large sixteen foot logs, and these were in turn held in place by the anchors.

The British made no specific attack on this then invincible obstacle, for it must be remembered that in those days there was no dynamite nor torpedoes, and none of the enemy's prowess would have pushed their way through such a barrier.

Although the British did not succeed in passing the big Hudson river chain, the American traitor Arnold gave it his particular attention and removed a link of it under the pretense of having it repaired for weakness at a nearby smithy. He wrote to Major Andre that it would not be replaced until the forts were surrendered to the British. But somehow the chain stood for its purpose, and Sir Henry Clinton did not attempt to relieve Burgoyne.

Parts of this celebrated chain are to be seen among various historical curios of prominent societies. A number of years ago Mayor Hewitt of New York, then the owner of a mine near the Sterling properties, became interested in finding out the whereabouts of the remaining portions of the chain. A large part of it lies at the bottom of the river, about thirty tons were in various possessions, and at West Point there are thirteen links, and a staple placed near the spot where the chain was anchored and a plate tells of the date and place of forging.—Boston Herald.

Herculeanum and Pompeii.
Pompeii was buried in ashes or light scoria, while Herculeanum was entombed in lava, which, after cooling, hardened into a material of the consistency of marble, and we thus have the explanation of the fact that while the first city has long been unearthed the latter is still largely covered with its ancient lava shroud. Excavations are constantly going on at Herculeanum, and the work will in all probability continue to the finish, but it is not likely that any especially important results will accrue, since the life of the two cities was practically the same.—New York American.

Rational Love.
"The rational rather than the romantic view of marriage is the one most in favor with the young people of the twentieth century," said a well known eugenics expert in an address in Cleveland.

"The rational view will make for happier marriages. And this rational view is beautifully illustrated in two questions—a little dialogue—running thus: 'Will you always love me?' 'Will you always be lovable?'"—New York Tribune.

Antiquity of the Census.
The idea of the census is almost as old as history itself. King Amasis of Egypt took a census of his people 500 years before Christ. The Athenian Solon established a census for the purpose of facilitating taxation. We learn that about 443 B. C. Servius Tullius took a census of Rome. During the chaos of the dark ages the census dropped into oblivion, but was revived again about the beginning of the eighteenth century.

No Primaries For Her.
"Are you going to the primaries tonight, Ethelinda?" asked the husband of his suffragette wife.

"Indeed I am not," replied the lady. "Do you suppose that after I have attended the postgraduate courses in political science for two years I'm going to waste my time on those primary classes? I guess not! They're good enough for you men, but we women have progressed beyond that!"—Harper's Weekly.

Two Failures.
"I married for beauty alone," said a presumably happy benedict to an old chum. "And yet you remind me of a friend of mine who married for money," was the rejoinder. "How's that?" "He didn't get it," said the chum sarcastically.

The preservation of health is a duty. Few seem conscious that there is such a thing as physical morality.—Spencer.

FATE OF A WORLD

Its Course From Chaos to Its Hopeless Death Struggle.

THREE ACTS IN THE TRAGEDY

The First Is Shown by Jupiter, the Second by the Earth and the Third by Mars, While the Moon Shows the Empty Stage After the Play Is Done.

No stage was ever set for such a tragedy as the planet Mars presents. It is the last act in the drama of a world's history!

The first act in such a drama consists of scenes from chaos. The huge planet Jupiter offers us a spectacle of that kind in its streaming belts of thick clouds and its whirling vapors, glowing like steam above a furnace.

The second act is represented by the earth, with its fertile crust, its cool, invigorating atmosphere and its life sustaining seas that give birth to the clouds which, condensing on the mountains, furnish the rains and set the rivers flowing.

The closing act is the role of Mars, where the seas have vanished, the atmosphere has thinned out, the rivers have disappeared, the continents have turned into deserts, and life, driven into a corner, is battling against final extinction.

That there is yet intelligent life on Mars is the universal belief of all the observers whom Mr. Lowell has gathered about him at his Flagstaff observatory, where the extraordinary phenomena of that wonderful planet are studied as nowhere else in the world.

More than that, they tell us with ever increasing emphasis that the people of Mars, compelled by necessity, have developed a command over natural forces which would seem miraculous if exhibited upon the earth.

With them it has become simply a question of brain power against the inanimate powers of nature.

They have nights and days of the same length as ours. They have seasons almost precisely corresponding with ours, except that they are each twice as long. But their oceans are dried up, no rains fall (though there may be dews), and nearly all the atmospheric moisture is alternately locked up in one or the other of the polar snowcaps.

In such a situation no vegetation can flourish unless artificially stimulated by a gigantic system of irrigation. And without vegetation animal existence is impossible.

But whence can the inhabitants of Mars derive the water needed for irrigation? The answer given is that they get it periodically from the melting of the polar snows. Being without seas and rivers they have no other source of supply.

On Mars the reign of universal peace must have begun ages ago, introduced not by moral or sentimental considerations, but by the necessity of uniting all the engineering skill, all the inventive powers and all the physical forces of the entire population of the planet in a common battle for life.

The only thought of their inventors is of improved means for controlling the slowly lessening supplies of moisture that once in about two of our years may be drawn away from one of the poles while the summer sunshine is dissolving its thin snows.

This universal concentration of mental energy upon a single aim is conceived as having developed upon Mars a knowledge of the hidden forces of nature such as has up to the present merely been dreamed of on the earth.

We have just begun to learn how to use electricity in the mechanic arts, but they may have unlocked the secret forces inclosed in the atoms of matter which our science has recently assured us exist without showing us how to utilize them.

Only by such suppositions can the "canals," hundreds of miles wide and thousands of miles long, be accounted for, if, as the Flagstaff observers insist, those objects are really of artificial origin. It should be said, however, that in Mr. Lowell's opinion the bands called canals are, in fact, irrigated belts.

The real canals within them are invisible, while the progressive darkening of these belts, as the polar melting increases, is due to the growth of vegetation, stimulated by the water.

After the world life drama closes there is left an empty stage, and this is represented by the moon. The lunar world has lost all its water. Its tragedy is finished. The actors are all dead. Millions of years ago there may have been a battle for life there like that which now appears to be raging on Mars. And millions of years in the future the stage of the earth will probably be set for a similar tragedy. For, to the eyes of the over-lookers gods (to change a little Shakespeare's figure):

All the sky's a stage,
And all the worlds and suns are merely actors.
—Garrett P. Serviss in New York Journal.

Folding a Coat.
Here is the way to fold a man's coat when you want to pack it in a box or a trunk. Lay the coat out perfectly flat, right side up. Spread the sleeves out smoothly, fold them back to the elbow until the bottoms of the cuffs are even with the collar. Fold the revers back and double the coat over, folding it on the center seam. Smooth out all wrinkles and lay it on a level surface in the trunk.

Half the joy of life is in little things taken on the run.—David Starr Jordan

Dickens' Handwriting.
It is a singular distinction of Charles Dickens' handwriting that—early formed in those galloping postchaises by lantern light—it became not only as clear as Thackeray's, but more beautiful than any other handwriting in the world. It has movement, grace, charming form in the capitals and that indefinable thing, touch. One "unregarded curl" (Poe's word of a lady's hair) in Dickens' script has spring in it and rebound. Probably a magnifying glass would show in detail this vitality in every letter of his alphabet.

SHE MET THE SULTAN.

But Willy Reschid Pasha Fooled the Lady and the Monarch.

A certain Countess of Londonderry wanted to meet the Sultan Mahmud II., to whom no European lady had been presented, but Lord Ponsonby, the British ambassador, refused to trifle with precedent. Lady Londonderry then had a talk with Reschid Pasha, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs. The wily Reschid, desiring to do his best for her ladyship, made known to the sultan that a person had arrived at Constantinople with a wonderful collection of most valuable jewelry for sale and ventured humbly to suggest that his imperial majesty might like to see the gems. The sultan was interested, and an interview was arranged, but Reschid merely told Lady Londonderry that she would be presented and that the sultan, having heard of the fame of her jewelry, and particularly requested that she would put it all on when she came. The gratified lady did so.

On her arrival at the palace Reschid Pasha conducted Lady Londonderry into the presence of the sultan. Her dress glittered with diamonds, pearls, turquoises and other precious stones. "Pekki!" ("Good!") said the sultan as Lady Londonderry courtesied. "She has magnificent jewels."

Reschid (to the lady)—His majesty graciously bids you welcome.

Lady Londonderry bowed and expressed her thanks in French, the language used by Reschid.

Reschid (interpreting)—She says she has other jewelry, but could not put on all.

Sultan—Ask her what is the price of that diamond necklace.

Reschid—His majesty inquires whether this is your first visit to Constantinople?

Lady Londonderry—This is my first visit, and I am delighted.

Reschid (to sultan)—She asks a million of plasters.

Sultan—That is too much.

Reschid (to Lady Londonderry)—His majesty asks whether you have seen the mosques. If not, he offers you a firman.

Lady Londonderry expressed her thanks.

Sultan—What price does she put on that set of turquoises?

Reschid (to Lady Londonderry)—His majesty says that perhaps you would like to take a walk in the garden.

Lady Londonderry expressed her thanks and said she would like to see the imperial garden.

Reschid (to sultan)—She says 400,000 plasters.

Sultan—Take her away. I shall not give such prices.

Reschid (to Lady Londonderry)—His majesty graciously expresses satisfaction at having made your acquaintance.

Lady Londonderry courtesied low and withdrew from his majesty's presence to visit the garden with the amiable and courteous Reschid, and afterward she had a delightful story to tell to her friends of the kindness with which the sultan had received her.

Long Drawn Out Elections.

No complaint with regard to undue limitation of polling time was possible in the old parliamentary days. The danger was that polling might be prolonged for a fortnight or a month. Drastic action to bring the poll to a close once provoked a riot in the Westminster division of London. At the general election that began on April 25, 1741, the two Westminster ministerial candidates were on the fifth day of polling well ahead, but an opposition party of electors approaching the hustings in great force, the high balliff (who favored the ministerialists) declared that he feared a riot and closed the poll. The baffled voters rioted and the military were called out. The high balliff had afterward to apologize on his knees to the speaker and pay a heavy fine.

An Early Postal Experiment.

As long ago as the seventeenth century the attempt was made to prepay letters by using stamps. In 1633 Paris tried a system that even provided pillar boxes for the letters, which were to have a billet, price 1 sol, attached to the letter or parcel. The experiment met the usual experience of the pioneer—ridicule. Mice were dropped into the letter boxes, and when the letters came to be collected it was found that the animals had made a hearty meal of them. As nobody could be sure of the fate of the parcels, the experiment came to a sudden end.

Maeterlinck on the Future.

Maeterlinck in his book called "Le Mort" says of the mystery of the after death that outside of the religions there are four imaginable solutions and no more. These are total annihilation, survival of our consciousness of today, survival without any sort of consciousness, survival with a consciousness different from that which we possess in this world.

The Joke on Father.

She had refused him, and he was "all in."

"Reconsider, Annie," he begged. "If you don't I'll blow my brains out."

"Huh," said Annie, "that would be a good joke on father, for he thinks you haven't any."—Ladies Home Journal.

Patient.

Binks—Could you lend me $1 until Saturday? Jinks—I'm busted. Won't have a cent myself until Saturday.

Binks—Would you lend it to me then?—New York Globe.

Nature when she adds difficulties adds brains.—Emerson.
